

VOICEVALE SUPPORTS ADELANTE MUJER FOUNDATION in BOLIVIA TO EMPOWER WOMEN

To achieve gender equality and empower women and girls is one of our goals.

In order to meet this goal, we have decided to actively engage with an NGO named Adelante Mujer to support their activities in Cochabamba.

Adelante Mujer is a project that creates an ecosystem of support for women who have lived through situations of domestic violence, empowering them to move forward and own their lives and inspiring other women to do the same.

From its premises named La Warmi Wasi, the organization coordinates meetings, cooking workshops, and therapies with women. Psychologists provide individual support for each woman and monitor their progress. A program named Sumak Kausay for example, aims to help women connect with their sense of identity and direct their lives towards their objectives.

As well as supporting Adelante Mujer in Cochabamba, Voicevale is also looking for opportunities to implement the same model in Riberalta where it owns part of a Brazil Nut factory, Green Forest S.A. and La Paz where it owns part of a Quinoa Factory, Quinoa Foods.

For further information on this organisation, please log on to

<https://www.adelante-mujer.com/>